Museum of Fine Arts, St. Petersburg Announces Tracy Maeter As New Member of 2021-2022 Board of Trustees

ST. PETERSBURG, FL (September 20, 2021) — Tracy Maeter has joined the Museum of Fine Arts, St. Petersburg (MFA) volunteer Board of Trustees starting with the 2021-2022 fiscal year. She will serve a three year term. This brings the governing body of the MFA to 27 members.

Ms. Maeter recently relocated to the Tampa Bay area and is a Managing Director and Senior Banker at J.P. Morgan Private Bank in Tampa. She is a graduate of MIT and holds an M.B.A. from Columbia University.

Ms. Maeter has a rich history of volunteering in the communities in which she has lived, including serving on the boards of the Central Philadelphia Development Corporation, the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, and WHYY, the regional public media organization. She was Co-Chair of JPMorgan Chase's Private Bank Women on the Move and the Chair of the Community Engagement Committee across lines of business in the Mid Atlantic.

Dimity Carlson, Chair of the Board, said “I’m delighted to welcome Tracy who will bring a wealth of knowledge and experience to our board. This is an exciting time in the life of the MFA as we work to fulfill our mission and further serve our community.”
